Jules TOURNUT Probiotics Prizes

Call for applications – 2016 Edition

One of the commitments of the European Probiotics Association (EPA), in line with the vision of Professor Jules TOURNUT, is to promote these beneficial microorganisms, by encouraging the publication of articles and scientific papers.

The “Jules Tournut Probiotics Prize” is awarded every two years, after an evaluation made by a Scientific Committee composed of various international scientists.

For the 2016' edition two prizes will be awarded:

- one will concern scientific excellence,
- the other will concern innovation for industrial application.

These awards recognize a young scientist and his team for an ambitious and innovative research or development project on mechanisms of action and use of probiotics in animal nutrition. The scientific work should be part of a PhD or Master thesis accomplished in 2014/2016 and should investigate new concepts such as nutrition, physiology, microbiology and immunity.

Applications (form attached) should be submitted no later than Monday, February 29, 2016.

The dossier (English only) should be mailed electronically in a single pdf file to the EPA Secretary General: secretarygeneral@asso-epa.org

The 2 prizes of 1.500 € will be awarded at the Eurotier International Exhibition, to be held in Hannover (Germany), from 15 to 18th November 2016.
